Drawings

Figure 7 A-F should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.121(d)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," and phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc. should be avoided. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, there are insufficient antecedent bases for "Said one thermal shield" recited at line 8, "the outer peripheral surface of said thermal shield" recited at line 12 and "the insulating spaces" recited at line 20 in the claim. It is noted there are at least two thermal shields being recited, therefore it is unclear for which "said thermal shield"

Art Unit: 3742

(recited at line 12) intended for. It is suggested that the term "first" to be preceded the first citation of "thermal shield" (at line 4). It is further noted that there is only one "insulating space" recited at lines 8-9, therefore such "insulating spaces" recited at line 20 must be clearly defined.

Claim 2 is indefinite for being incomplete since there is definitely some missing text after the phrase "with respect to" recited at line 4 and the claim has not been ended by a single period. Additionally, there is insufficient antecedent bases for "said heating element" recited at line 2 (also note in claims 5-8, at line 2) and "the heat shields" recited at line 3 in the claim or from the preceding claim 1.

Claim 9 is vague and indefinite as for the similar reason set forth in claim 1 above. It is noted that there are insufficient antecedent bases for "said heating portion" recited at line 14, "said one thermal shield" recited at line 17, "said thermal shield" recited at line 21, and "the insulating spaces" recited at line 29 in the claim. Appropriate corrections in the manner set forth in claim 1 above are suggested.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Brundage et al (US 5,410,567).

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: while Brundage et al discloses the use of a cylindrically-shaped insulator or thermal shields 46 in an induction furnace, the insulator is formed of a plurality of segments 48 with each segments is provided with a tongue 58 and groove 60 to provide vertical joints 62 with mechanical strength and to eliminate direct thermal radiation leakage. Each of the vertical joints 62 is appeared to have a thermal shield portion at a site (defined by the longitudinal axis of the tongue 58) other than both ends of a straight line for joining the ends of insulator or thermal shields 46. However, there is no indication that such thermal shields having such thermal shield portions are be used in resistance furnace including a resistance heating element which comprises a cylindrical heating portion with a pair of terminals formed the heating portion outer peripheral surface and such thermal shields are joined to the heating portion terminals as claimed in claims 1 and 9.

Claims 1-10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
